

2019 Agronomy Conference

“Smarter Agronomy for Sustainable Crop Production: Land to Plate”

CALL FOR PAPERS

The 2019 Agronomy Society Conference will be jointly held with the New Zealand Grassland Association in Napier from November 5-7, 2019.

We are now calling for papers on all aspects of crop agronomy in a New Zealand production context. Papers that consider how agronomy needs to become smarter for sustainable crop production over the full value chain from “land to plate” are strongly encouraged.

Topics of interest may include (but are not limited to):

- Data collection and analysis
- Decision support systems
- Variable rate agronomic management
- Use of robotics
- Redesigning production systems
- Water allocation and crop water use
- Nutrient use efficiency and fertiliser management
- Delivering higher value crops
- Modelling crops and pastures
- Adaption for climate change impacts
- Seed, vegetable and forage production

Key dates are:

Title submissions due

12 April 2019

Full manuscript due

7 June 2019

Titles should be submitted using the attached template to: sharon.woodward@xtra.co.nz
(for further information call +64 021820479)

Manuscript formatting and other information relating to publishing a paper with the Agronomy Society can be found on our website: www.agronomysociety.org.nz.

Please forward this call for papers to other colleagues and students who may be interested in submitting a paper.
